SCHEDULEACT REPEALED BY SECTION 37

Act No.	Short title of Act	Extent of Repeal
36 of 1983	Agricultural Pests Act, 1983	Section 3(1) to the extent that it relates to plants. Section 6 as a whole.

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE PLANT HEALTH (PHYTOSANITARY) BILL

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 The national phytosanitary regulatory system is currently administered under the Agricultural Pests Act, 1983 (Act No. 36 of 1983) (“the Act”), and its associated regulations. The purpose of the Act with regard to phytosanitary matters is to provide for measures by which quarantine pests of plants, plant products and other regulated articles may be prevented from entering and establishing in South Africa, and for combating plant pests of national concern.
- 1.2 South Africa is a signatory member of the World Trade Organisation Agreement on the Application of Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures (WTO-SPS Agreement) and the International Plant Protection Convention (IPPC), so it needs to align its phytosanitary legislation with the relevant obligations and standards to facilitate safe and fair international trade.
- 1.3 The Act was promulgated in 1983, with its latest amendment promulgated in 1992. It has therefore been in force for nearly three decades, been through two different government systems and was promulgated before the adoption of the International Plant Protection Convention’s 1997 text and the World Trade Organisation Agreement on the Application of Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures (WTO-SPS Agreement) of 1995. As a necessary step in the management of legislation, frequent revisions ought to be performed to determine the validity and relevance of the provisions of legislation.

2. PURPOSE OF BILL

- 2.1 The Plant Health (Phytosanitary) Bill (“the Bill”) seeks to address gaps and challenges in the current phytosanitary system in view of the requirements of this country’s major trading partners and the requirements under the relevant international agreements and treaties of which South Africa is a signatory member. It aims to support the South African Government’s objectives and priorities such as sustainable management and use of natural resources, the provision of effective national regulatory services and risk management systems as well as increased contribution of the sector to the country’s economic growth and development.
- 2.2 In accordance with the National Development Plan (NDP), the agricultural sector has been identified as one of the important sectors contributing to job creation and employment. The Bill will support South Africa’s efforts to enter new markets and maintain current export markets, which will have a positive impact on the South African economy.
- 2.3 Phytosanitary legislation is important in securing the country’s domestic and international trade in plants and plant products. Considering its active agricultural and forestry sectors, South Africa needs a sound, nationally coordinated phytosanitary system in order to maintain and expand its competitive position in the global trade arena.

- 5.1 The implementation of the new Act will have no additional implication in terms of human and financial resources since the NPPO of South Africa has already been established and funded.
- 5.2 Key activities such surveillance and response will be catered for under the current MTEF allocation and further prioritisation will be undertaken in the Branch: Agricultural Production, Health, Food Safety and Disaster Management over multiple MTEFs.
- 5.3 The Branch has received additional MTEF allocations (2020 to 2023) to respond to biosecurity threats, strengthen inspection services at points of entry and revitalise laboratories and quarantine stations. This will serve as additional resource to support the implementation of the new Act.

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

- 6.1 The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 (“the Constitution”), prescribes the procedure for the classification of Bills, therefore a Bill must be correctly classified so that it does not become inconsistent with the Constitution.
- 6.2 We have considered the Bill against the provisions of the Constitution relating to the tagging of Bills and against the functional areas listed in Schedule 4 (functional areas of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence) and Schedule 5 (functional areas of exclusive provincial legislative competence) to the Constitution.
- 6.3 The established test for classification of a Bill is that any Bill whose provisions in substantial measure fall within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution must be classified in terms of that Schedule (Tongoane and Others v Minister for Agriculture and Land Affairs and Others Case CCT 100/09 [2010] ZACC 10). The process is concerned with the question of how the Bill should be considered by the provinces and in the National Council of Provinces.
- 6.4 Furthermore, how a Bill must be considered by the provincial legislatures depends on whether it affects the provinces. The more the Bill affects the interests, concerns and capacities of the provinces, the more say the provinces should have on the contents of the Bill.
- 6.5 Therefore, the issue to be determined is whether the proposed amendments to the Act, as contained in the Bill, in substantial measure fall within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution.
- 6.6 Other key points to consider as stated in the Tongoane case are as follows:
 - The tagging of Bills before Parliament must be informed by the need to ensure that provinces fully and effectively exercise their appropriate role in the process of considering national legislation that substantially affects them. Paying less attention to the provisions of a Bill once its substance, or purpose and effect, has been identified undermines the role that provinces should play in the enactment of national legislation affecting them.

- To apply the “pith and substance” test to the tagging question, therefore undermines the constitutional role of the provinces in legislation in which they should have a meaningful say, and disregards the breadth of the legislative provisions that section 76(3) of the Constitution requires to be enacted in accordance with the section 76 procedure.

- 6.7 In light of the Tongoane matter, we are of the view that the Bill falls within the functional area of “Agriculture”, listed in Part A to Schedule 4 of the Constitution, which is an area of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence. In accordance with section 76(3)—

“A Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure established by either subsection (1) or subsection (2) if it falls within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 ”.

- 6.8 The Bill should be dealt with in accordance with the section 76(1) or (2) process, since it falls within the functional area of Schedule 4 and 5 of the Constitution.
- 6.9 We are also of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer this Bill to the National House of Traditional and Khoi-San Leaders in terms of section 39(1)(a) of the Traditional and Khoi-San Leadership Act, 2019 (Act No. 3 of 2019), since it does not contain provisions pertaining to traditional or Khoi-San communities or pertaining to customary law or customs of traditional or Khoi-San communities or provisions pertaining to any matter referred to in section 154(2) of the Constitution.
