Short title and commencement

23. This Act is called the Independent Police Investigative Directorate Amendment Act, 2023, and comes into operation on a date determined by the President by proclamation in the Gazette.

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE INDEPENDENT
POLICE INVESTIGATIVE DIRECTORATE AMENDMENT BILL, 2023

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1 The processes of effecting amendments to the Independent Police Investigative Directorate Act, 2011 (Act No. 1 of 2011) (“the Act”), commenced in 2016 immediately after the Constitutional Court judgment of *McBride v Minister of Police and Another (“the McBride judgment”). In the McBride judgment the Constitutional Court declared section 6(3)(a) and 6(6) of the principal Act invalid to the extent that they authorise the Minister of Police to unilaterally suspend, take any disciplinary steps pursuant to suspension, or remove from office the Executive Director of the Independent Police Investigative Directorate (“IPID”) without Parliamentary oversight. As a result, the Constitutional Court directed Parliament to cure this defect in the Act, within 24 months from the date of the order. Consequently a draft Bill which sought to cure this defect in the Act was submitted to Parliament, and as a result the Independent Police Investigative Directorate Amendment Act, 2019 (Act No. 27 of 2019) was signed into law by the President on 26 May 2020. This Act provides for Parliamentary oversight in respect of the suspension, discipline or removal of the Executive Director, as directed by the Constitutional Court in the McBride case.
- 1.2 After the enactment of the 2019 Amendment Act, the process of effecting comprehensive amendments to the Act commenced. Consultations on the draft version of the Bill with relevant stakeholders such as the National Prosecuting Authority (“the NPA”) and the South African Police Service (“the SAPS”) were conducted.
- 1.3 The Bill was published in the Gazette for public comments. The public comments received have been considered while revising the current version of the Bill.

2. OBJECTS OF THE BILL

- 2.1 The Bill seeks to entrench the institutional and operational independence of IPID, as well as to make it expressly clear that IPID must be independent, impartial and exercise its powers and functions without fear, favour or prejudice. This is in order to give effect to the McBride judgment, where Judge Bosielo made certain pronouncements concerning the importance of independence of IPID, in order for IPID to function without any favour or bias.
- 2.2 The mandate of IPID shall in terms of the Bill also include investigation of allegation of offences of rape and murder that have been committed while on or off duty.
- 2.3 The salary dispensation of IPID investigators shall in terms of the new amendments to the Act be determined by the Minister in consultation with the Minister responsible for Finance, it may not be less favourable upon the commencement of the said Act.
- 2.4 Amendments have also been made to section 30 of the Act in order to strengthen the provisions concerning the implementation of the disciplinary recommendations of IPID.

* CCT 100/09 [2010] ZACC 10.

3. SUMMARY OF BILL

The Bill can be summarised as follows:

- 3.1 Clause 1 of the Bill seeks to amend section 1 of the Act through the insertion of certain new definitions, such as the definition of a firearm, municipal manager and executive head of municipal police service.
- 3.2 Clause 2 of the Bill seeks to amend section 3(2) of the Act in order to provide that IPID must exercise its functions in accordance with the Constitution.
- 3.3 Clause 3 of the Bill seeks to amend section 4 of the principal Act in order to provide that IPID is institutionally and operationally independent. Section 4 of the principal Act is further amended in order to provide that IPID must be independent, impartial and must exercise the powers and perform the functions of office without fear, favour, prejudice or undue influence. This proposed amendment is in order to give effect to the McBride judgment in which Judge Bosielo AJ pronounced that the public should have confidence that IPID will be able, without undue political interference, to investigate complaints against the police fearlessly and without favour or bias.
- 3.4 Clause 4 of the Bill seeks to substitute section 6 of the Act. In terms of these amendments, the Executive Director shall be appointed by the Minister with the concurrence of Cabinet, for a non-renewable period of not less than seven years and not longer than 10 years.

The Minister shall thereafter report to Parliament on the appointment of the Executive Director within 14 days of the appointment if Parliament is then in session or, if Parliament is not then in session, within 14 days after the commencement of its next ensuing session.

- 3.5 Clause 5 seeks to amend section 7 of the Act in order to ensure that disciplinary matters are referred to all the relevant authorities.

The section is further amended in order to provide for initiation of investigation by the Executive Director upon becoming aware of any alleged commission of an offence by a member of the South African Police Service or municipal police service, and not only upon receipt of complaints.

- 3.6 Clause 6 proposes the deletion of section 8(1) of the Act, which provided for the composition of the national office of IPID, as it is a matter that could be dealt with through IPID's internal policies and procedures.

The clause further amends subsection (4) of this section of the Act, and it provides for the conducting of pre-employment security screening investigation by the Directorate and not by the State Security Agency as provided for in the Act. The rationale for this amendment is that, it is not necessary for the State Security Agency to conduct securing screening investigation, as it merely involves criminal and credit record checks.

In subsection (5), a provision is made for the issue of a security clearance certificate by the Directorate, in respect of the security screening investigation.

- 3.7 Clause 7 of the Bill seeks to amend section 9 of the principal Act in order to provide that the report on identification and review of legislative needs shall be reported to the Minister and not to the Civilian Secretariat for Police as provided for in the Act.
- 3.8 Clause 8 of the Bill seeks to amend section 10 of the principal Act by proposing the deletion of the reference to section 7(9) from subsection (3) of section 10, which will have the effect of the Executive Director being authorised to delegate the initiation of an investigation of any offence allegedly committed by any member of SAPS or a municipal police service, including the referral of such matters to the National or relevant Provincial Commissioner. This is in order that such investigations may be initiated by a provincial head of IPID as well.

- 3.9 Clause 9 of the Bill seeks to amend section 16 of the principal Act in order to provide that the Executive Director and the Secretary may invite a person, government Department or Institution in a meeting of the Forum, if there is a matter which concerns such a person, government Department or Institution. This is in order to cater for instances where the Forum needs to engage with a certain government Department or Institution on matters which concerns the exercise by the Forum of its powers and duties.
- 3.10 Clause 10 provides for the repeal of section 19 of the principal Act which provides for the salary level of Provincial Heads of IPID, as it has been considered that it is not necessary to provide for such in the principal Act.
- 3.11 Clause 11 effects amendments to section 21 of the Act through the deletion of paragraph (m) which provides that the provincial head of IPID must prepare financial statements for submission to the Executive Director within two months after the end of the financial year. During consultations with IPID officials on the public comments received on the Bill, it was proposed that paragraph (m) be deleted as IPID provincial offices do not have to undertake this duty, as financial statements of IPID are prepared by the national office of IPID and not by Provinces.
- 3.12 Clause 12 provides for the deletion of paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 22 of the principal Act, which provides for qualification requirements of IPID investigators, as it has been considered that it is not necessary to provide for such in the principal Act.

Amendments are also effected to subsection (4) of this section of the principal Act, in which it is provided that the pre-employment security screening investigation of IPID investigators must be conducted by the Directorate. Again, this amendment is informed by the fact that such screening consists of a mere criminal and credit record checks that may be conducted internally and not necessarily by the State Security Agency.

- 3.13 Clause 13 amends section 23 of the Act. The published version of the Bill provided that the conditions of service including salary and allowances payable to investigators must be determined in terms of the Public Service Act.

IPID investigators raised a concern in their comments on the Bill, in that being subject to the Public Service Act as envisaged in the published version of the Bill shall be detrimental to them as the Public Service Act salary scales are lower than their current salary dispensation. Further, that the Employer Pension contribution in terms of the Public Service Act is 13% whereas in terms of their current salary dispensation it is 16%.

The Department has considered the concerns of IPID investigators and decided to amend section 23 of the Act in order to provide that their conditions of service including remuneration and benefits shall be determined by the Minister in consultation with the Minister of Finance.

- 3.14 Clause 14 of the Bill seeks to amend section 24 of the principal Act in order to bestow upon IPID investigators, the power to take buccal samples in terms of the South African Police Service Act, 1995 (Act No. 68 of 1995).

The clause further proposes the addition of subsections (6), (7), (8), (9), (10) and (11) in order to provide for procedural matters regarding the subpoena of persons for the purpose of conducting an investigation, as well as to prevent the disclosure of the contents of documents or records given during the investigation, and the disclosure of the contents of any interview or questioning conducted during an investigation.

In order to ensure the protection of the rights of witnesses during such proceedings, the proposed subsection (9) provides that any person appearing before the investigator or a provincial head may be assisted by a legal representative at such examination.

- 3.15 Clause 15 of the Bill seeks to strengthen subsection (1) of section 27 which provides for limitation of liability of IPID officials by providing that a member of IPID shall not be liable in respect of anything reflected in any report, finding, point of view, recommendation or investigation made or expressed in good faith and without gross negligence in performing a function in terms of the principal Act, and submitted to Parliament, the National Prosecuting Authority, or any other relevant authority.
- 3.16 Clause 16 of the Bill seeks to amend section 28 of the Act in order to indicate that IPID shall investigate the allegations of commission of crimes of rape and murder by the member of SAPS or municipal police service, that have been committed on or off duty.

Section 28(1) is further amended in order to provide that IPID shall investigate the allegations of assault only if it is with intention to cause grievous bodily harm. The proposal for investigation of only serious assault allegations is informed by concerns that IPID is inundated with minor assault allegations which takes away time and resources which could be utilized to investigate more serious allegations.

The complaint of a discharge of an official firearm has been deleted as it was thought that investigation should only be conducted if the discharge of an official firearm is linked to an allegation of attempted murder. As such, a new type of matter to be investigated by IPID, which is attempted murder in relation to a discharge of an official firearm has been inserted in the Bill.

Furthermore, a provision is also made in this section of the Act for IPID to have a mandate to initiate investigation in instances where a member of SAPS or municipal police service has allegedly committed an offence, together with a member of any other Law Enforcement Agency or a civilian.

Provincial heads of IPID as well as certain executive authorities of SAPS and municipal police service are also empowered to refer matters to IPID for investigation, this shall no longer be the responsibility of only the Executive Director of IPID.

- 3.17 Clause 17 amendments are effected to section 29 of the Act in order to make provision for the Station Commander and municipal manager to also refer matters for investigation by the Directorate. This is after a proposal was made in the public comments that the Bill be revised in order to cater for the recent changes in ranks of municipal police service as published in Government Gazette 46267, Notice 2041 dated 22 April 2022.
- 3.18 Clause 18 of the Bill seeks to amend section 30 of the principal Act in order to strengthen the provisions relating to implementation of IPID recommendations. To achieve this objective—
- (a) An obligation to submit a report of the outcomes of disciplinary matters to the Minister is placed to also the National Head or the appropriate Provincial Head of the Directorate for Priority Crime Investigation, and the executive head of a municipal police service.
 - (b) In order to prevent the challenge of disciplinary proceedings being instituted before the Directorate can submit a report of the outcomes of its investigation, it is provided in the amendments that the immediate Station Commander or a municipal manager must only initiate disciplinary proceedings after the investigation of allegations has been finalised by the Directorate and upon receipt of an investigation report of the Directorate.

- (c) Furthermore, it is also provided in section 30 that the report must specify whether the disciplinary recommendations of IPID were implemented and the extent of implementation thereof. If they have not been implemented, the reasons for not implementing IPID's recommendations must be specified in the report. This is in order to ensure that IPID disciplinary recommendations are not only implemented, but also that IPID is informed of the reasons why its disciplinary recommendation/s are not implemented.

3.19 Clause 19 of the Bill seeks to amend section 31 of the principal Act by providing that the Executive Director is accountable to both the Minister and Parliament.

3.20 Clause 20 provides for additional matters which the Minister may make Regulations in relation to, such the procedure to be followed in respect of the report to the Minister, the Executive Director and the Secretary for Police Service on the outcomes of disciplinary matters, as well as the format of such a report.

3.21 Clause 21 of the Bill seeks to substitute section 35 of the principal Act as the transitional provisions provided therein have now been fully implemented. Instead, a new saving clause in relation to changes to be made in determining the remuneration and benefits of investigators and provincial heads of IPID, has been inserted.

3.22 Clause 22 of the Bill provides for the substitution of Headings of certain sections of the Act.

4. DEPARTMENTS AND BODIES CONSULTED

4.1 The Bill was drafted by a drafting team consisting of officials of the Civilian Secretariat for Police Service and IPID. Consultations on the Bill were conducted with relevant stakeholders such as SAPS and the NPA.

4.2 It was published for public comments and the comments received on the Bill have been considered in the current version of the Bill.

4.3 Cabinet approved the Bill on 24 May 2023, and it is scheduled to be introduced in Parliament.

4.4 The Exemption Certificate which exempts the Bill from the application of the Socio-Economic Impact Assessment System has been issued by the Department of Presidency.

5. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

The Bill merely seeks to strengthen the Act and as such, there are no envisaged financial implications for IPID in their daily exercise of their mandate of conducting investigations of alleged commission of offences by members of SAPS and municipal police service.

6. PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

6.1 The Constitution regulates the manner in which legislation may be enacted by the legislature and thus prescribes the different procedures to be followed for such enactment. The national legislative process is governed by sections 73 to 77 of the Constitution.

- 6.2 We have considered the Bill against the provisions of the Constitution relating to the tagging of Bills and against the functional areas listed in Schedule 4 (functional areas of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence) and Schedule 5 (functional areas of exclusive provincial legislative competence) to the Constitution.
- 6.3 A Bill falling within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 of the Constitution must be dealt with in accordance with the procedure set out in section 76. Schedule 4 lists the functional areas of concurrent national and provincial legislative competence. Schedule 5 of the Constitution lists the functional areas of exclusive provincial legislative competence. Therefore, those areas not falling within Schedule 4 and Schedule 5 fall within the exclusive national legislative competence.
- 6.4 The test for the classification of a Bill, as established in the Constitutional Court judgment of Tongoane and Others v National Minister for Agriculture and Land Affairs and Others CCT 100/09 [2010] ZACC 10 (“Tongoane judgment”), is that any Bill with provisions which in substantial measure fall within a functional area listed in Schedule 4 to the Constitution must be classified in terms of that Schedule. The Tongoane judgment therefore laid down the substantial measures test for the tagging of a Bill which requires one to determine whether to a substantial extent the legislation under consideration actually regulates matters falling within Schedule 4 of the Constitution. If so, the Bill must be tagged in terms of section 76 of the Constitution.
- 6.5 As the Bill does not deal with a functional area listed in Schedule 4 or Schedule 5 of the Constitution, we submit that section 44(1)(a)(ii) of the Constitution is applicable with regard to the power of the National Assembly to pass legislation on “any matter”.
- 6.6 The State Law Advisers and the Department: Civilian Secretariat for Police Service are of the opinion that the Bill must be dealt with in accordance with the legislative procedure outlined in section 75 of the Constitution as it contains no provisions to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 of the Constitution applies.
- 6.7 The State Law Advisers are of the opinion that it is not necessary to refer the Bill to the National House of Traditional and Khoi-San Leaders in terms of section 39(1)(a)(i) of the Traditional and Khoi-San Leadership Act, 2019 (Act No. 3 of 2019), as it does not contain any provisions which directly affect traditional or Khoi-San communities or provisions which pertain to customary law or customs of traditional or Khoi-San communities.
