2. Academic leadership and appointments

Head of Division | November 2018–present

Division of Addiction Psychiatry, Department of Psychiatry and Mental Health, University of Cape Town

Provides strategy and vision for the Division and leads its development as an African platform for evidence-informed drug policy, public health and systems research. Responsibilities include academic oversight of the Postgraduate Diploma, MPhil and PhD offerings in Addictions Care; research and funding strategy; digital innovation; workforce development; and partnerships across government, civil society, multilateral organisations and international universities.

Scientific Advisor | April 2024–present

International Society of Substance Use Professionals (ISSUP)

Provides global scientific and technical guidance in drug demand reduction; oversees the Scientific Advisory Council; leads scientific-support functions; develops and hosts webinars, podcasts and knowledge-exchange activities; and has led development of global drug-information resources, the Web App ASSIST partnership and an internship and Master's-research platform.

Director and Principal Investigator | October 2020–present

South Africa International Technology Transfer Centre (ITTC)

Provides strategic direction, technical assistance and operational oversight for a national and regional platform supporting evidence-based prevention, harm reduction, treatment and recovery. Work includes policy development and implementation support, workforce capacity building, quality assurance and systems strengthening across health, education, social development and criminal-justice settings. Core US Department of State funding concluded in February 2025; the platform and partnerships continue.

Multiple Principal Investigator | June 2020–May 2025

ARCH Study: Advancing Integrated Alcohol–HIV Training of Frontline Providers

Lead South African strategic, financial, human-resource and implementation oversight for the NIAAA-funded evaluation of a national cascading training model for screening, brief intervention and referral to treatment in HIV services.

Co-Director | December 2017–September 2020

South Africa HIV Addiction Technology Transfer Centre

Led programme strategy, partnerships, budgets, operations, reporting and workforce-development activities with government, non-governmental organisations, and USAID-, CDC- and PEPFAR-funded programmes.

Earlier clinical, academic and research appointments

Period	Appointment and contribution
2019–2022	Chairperson, Addiction Conference 2021. Vision, strategy and academic programming for an independent international addiction-treatment conference.

2015–2019	Consultant, Neurogenetics of African Populations–Psychosis Study. Supported staff training and fidelity in participant consenting in collaboration with the Broad Institute and Harvard University.
2013–2017	Medical Officer and Project Manager, Genomics of Schizophrenia Project, UCT. Led staff recruitment and training, quality assurance, standard operating procedures, site oversight and research collaboration.
2011–2017	Medical Officer in Psychiatry / Clinical Research Fellow / PhD Candidate, UCT. Delivered tertiary psychiatric care at Valkenberg Hospital and coordinated and contributed to psychosis research and a randomised controlled trial.
2011	Principal Medical Officer in Psychiatry, Ngwelezana and King George V Hospitals. Provided referral, outpatient, neuropsychiatric, forensic and occupational psychiatric services.
2007–2010	Registrar in Psychiatry, University of KwaZulu-Natal. Completed specialist clinical training across the major psychiatric disciplines.
2006	Medical Community Service Officer in General Surgery, Ladysmith Provincial Hospital. Provided theatre, inpatient and outpatient surgical services.
2005	Medical Intern, Addington Hospital. Completed rotations in medicine, obstetrics and gynaecology, surgery and anaesthetics.

3. Teaching, curriculum and academic development

- Provides strategic oversight of UCT postgraduate offerings in addictions care: the Postgraduate Diploma, MPhil and PhD programmes; teaches Neuroscience of Addiction in the Postgraduate Diploma.
- Led development of the Higher Health substance-use training curriculum for implementation across South African universities and co-developed the accredited Postgraduate Diploma in Mental Health, scheduled to commence in 2027.
- Leads national workforce-development and technology-transfer programmes that translate evidence into training, technical assistance and service delivery in substance-use prevention, treatment and recovery.
- Through the ARCH programme and standard Division programmes, has supported a cascading train-the-trainer model for frontline HIV service providers and the national implementation of screening, brief intervention and referral to treatment.
- Current supervision portfolio includes two MMed candidates, one PhD candidate in protocol development and one PhD co-supervision; recent outcomes include an MMed graduate, a completed MPH dissertation and an examined MPhil research component.
- Supervision spans addiction psychiatry, school substance-use disorders, behavioural addictions, opioid substitution therapy and seroconversion, with an emphasis on translating Division-generated data and implementation platforms into student research.
- Led design and rollout of workforce curricula in motivational interviewing, Screening, Brief Intervention and Referral to Treatment (SBIRT), stigma reduction and evidence-based addiction care for community health workers, facility-based providers and regional technical-assistance partners.

4. Research leadership, grants and current projects

Co-Investigator | Newly funded; 2026

Siyakhana: A hybrid Type 2 implementation-effectiveness trial to improve non-communicable care engagement among patients with mental health and substance use disorders in South Africa

Co-Investigator and Stakeholder and Health Policy Engagement Lead on the newly funded Global Alliance for Chronic Diseases (GACD) Siyakhana project (June 2026-May 2031), jointly supported through the Australian National Health and Medical Research Council and the South African Medical Research Council. The five-year collaboration is hosted by Curtin University and SAMRC, with UCT and international partners.

- Leads engagement with provincial and national Departments of Health; facilitates collaboration with the Department of Social Development, community partners and policy stakeholders; and supports establishment of stakeholder advisory groups and implementation reference groups.
- Provides clinical and policy leadership to align Siyakhana with national mental-health and substance-use-disorder, non-communicable-disease and community-oriented-primary-care priorities, translating findings into policy briefs, implementation recommendations and workforce strategies.
- Contributes to stakeholder-led intervention adaptation, co-design and Theory of Change development; advises on integration into hypertension and diabetes care pathways and on sustainable community-health-worker and peer-recovery-coach capacity-building models.
- Co-leads sustainability and national scale-up planning, including stakeholder ownership, policy buy-in, dissemination roundtables, investment cases, policy products and sustainability roadmaps; participates in project governance and advises on implementation barriers and policy opportunities.
- The hybrid Type 2 stepped-wedge cluster trial will be implemented across 12 primary-healthcare clinics, involving approximately 276 community health workers and outcomes for an anticipated 5,520 patients with co-occurring mental-health or substance-use disorders and hypertension or diabetes.
